

When four L shaped boards are set up in a square to enable one to draw water from a well based in רשות הבים, there cannot be more than thirteen and a third אמות between the boards. The four corners may be moved further out, provided that there is no space of thirteen and a third אמות, and if there is, boards may be added between each corner L board. If there was in any or all of the corners, instead of an L shaped board, a stone, a tree, a hill, or a bundle of reeds, that extends an אמה in each direction, that is also a valid מחיצה and it is מותר to draw water from the well.